No Cut in Guard: Ike

President Confers with Officials, Says Strength Will Not Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (UP) — National Guard leaders said today President Eisenhower has assured them he will not permit the Guard to be "destroyed or reduced materially in strength."

Officials of the National Guard Assn. called on the President to ask him to reverse an Army decision requiring all new Guard enlistees to take six months of basic training, starting April 1.

The association opposes this plan, claiming it would hinder Guard enlistments. Representatives of the Guard urged the President to adopt their alternative plan requiring only 11 weeks of basic training.

Both the President and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson are strongly behind the six months plan.

National Guard officials present at today's White House meeting said Wilson's recent criticism of the Guard did not come up. Wilson caused a furor by charging a "sort of scandal" developed in the Guard during the Korean War. He said many youths used it for "draft dodging."

Mr. Eisenhower has termed Wilson's remark "very unwise."

Boy Who Visited Shrine Dies Of Leukemia

CHICAGO (UP) — Eight-year-old Randy Eckman died of leukemia exactly one year after his Lutheran mother took him to a Roman Catholic shrine in the belief that God watches over children of all religions.

Randy, whose home was in St. Joseph, Mich., died Sunday here at Mount Sinai Hospital.

One year ago Randy dipped his feet in the "miracle waters" of Our Lady of Lourdes shrine in France in hopes of finding a cure to the fatal blood disease.

Since July, the boy has been in and out of the hospital, sometimes improving, sometimes failing—but always with his mother, Mrs. Helen Eckman, 36, by his side. She slept in a bed placed in her son's room.

Mrs. Eckman took her son to the Catholic shrine on money raised by neighbors in St. Joseph. After dipping his feet in the shrine's waters, Randy asked, "Mama, will I feel better now?" His mother assured him he would, and for a while there was a noticeable improvement. But Randy's doctor cautioned against optimism.

"There is no known cure for leukemia," Dr. Marvin Strick said.

Today the words of the Catholic priest at Our Lady of Lourdes shrine were recalled.

"Perhaps it will be God's wish to take the boy into heaven," the priest said.

Two Soldiers Admit Burglary At Ridgway

Arrested Here Saturday Night By City Police

Two soldiers from Fort Stewart, Georgia, picked up by Harrisburg city police around midnight Saturday, have admitted a service station burglary at Ridgway the same night, James Fox, Gallatin county deputy, reported today.

The two, Willard Sheppard, who said he was from Delaware, and Roland Butler, from Ada, Okla., were scheduled to be charged with burglary and larceny, Fox stated. Both are about 19 years of age.

They will be charged with burglarizing Dickey's service station at Ridgway, operated by Dennis Dickey, taking cigarettes, candy bars and peanuts.

The two were picked up on suspicion by City Policemen Link Rann and Floyd Kimbro at Routes 13 and 45 and when questioned at the city hall separately told different stories about their activities.

Chief of Police Ross Lane said when they found a book of Dickey's service station matches on one of them, the station was called and they learned the place had been burglarized. The two fit the description of a pair who had been in the station shortly before it closed for the night and Gallatin county authorities came to take the lads to Shawneetown.

Lane said the boys had three-day passes on them dated Jan. 31 and also were carrying a number of blank passes that could be filled in. On the line on their filled-out passes where the return date should be stamped, there was written "Normally off duty."

Predict Changes in Election Laws After Campaign Spending Report

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson predicted today that Congress will revise federal election laws.

His prediction came in the wake of a report by the Senate Elections subcommittee Saturday that spending on last year's presidential and congressional elections soared far past $33 million dollars.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), who helped write the report, said he will sponsor a bill to limit campaign gifts and spending. He said it will follow the general recommendations made by the majority of the subcommittee.

The subcommittee said it found "an unhealthy state of political affairs" in which Republicans outspent Democrats almost two to one. It said there is "imperative and immediate need" of reform legislation.

Johnson and Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland introduced a "clean elections bill" last year. It went to the Senate Rules Committee and was never seen again.

The subcommittee report was drafted by Gore and Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), who succeeded him as chairman of the subcommittee. The sole Republican member, Sen. Carl T. Curtis (Neb.) filed a blanket dissent, saying the report "is neither complete nor in accord with the known facts."

The Democrats said big business contributed "largely" to the Republicans while labor gave "almost entirely" to the Democrats.

Curtis objected that the report accounted for only "relatively small" voluntary contributions from labor and ignored manpower and "services" provided by unions as well as spending from their general funds.

The subcommittee showed the Republicans spent $20,685,387; the Democrats $10,977,790; labor committees, $941,271; and miscellaneous, $581,277 during last year's campaign. The total was $33,185,725.

But the subcommittee said the actual total far exceeded this. It had no way of checking some fund-raising activities.

Rumor Unfounded, Equality Man Will Not Appear on Quiz

"It's absolutely an unfounded rumor," Ray Hine of Equality declared today when asked by a Daily Register reporter if it was true he was to appear on the popular TV show, the $64,000 question.

Mr. Hine quickly added, "I am sorry that the rumor isn't true as I would be happy to take part on the program."

A story was making the rounds late last week that Mr. Hine, an authority of Civil War history, had been examined on his knowledge of the subject and accepted to appear on the program.

Mr. Hine, during the telephone conversation this morning, said that about six months ago friends of his had written to the program director and suggested Mr. Hine as a contestant. "But nothing came of it," he said.

"Maybe I will be called at a later date as a result of the letter, but as of today I haven't been called. I am sorry to say," Mr. Hine declared.

Dr. Joe Bryant to Address County Historical Society

The Saline County Historical society will hold its regular meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the club room of the Mitchell-Carnegie library.

The speaker will be Dr. Joe Bryant of Ridgway and his topic will be "Birds and Snakes of Southern Illinois." Dr. Bryant is considered an authority on the subject and the timeliness of his talk on birds should interest bird lovers and encourage them to attend and enjoy the colored slides and recordings of bird calls and singing.

The social hour will be in charge of Mrs. Paul Hatfield, Mrs. George Davenport and Mrs. Clarence Bosket.

Senate to Act On Emergency Fund Measures

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The Illinois Legislature returned to work today to complete action on emergency appropriations for the Public Aid Commission and the auditor's office.

The Senate also was expected to act this week on a $260,000 deficiency appropriation for the Statehouse Commission, which has stirred up complaints of extravagance in furnishing a lounge for legislators.

Action on the $260,000 measure was put off last week after some members protested about the "palatial" furnishing of the lounge, which will be used by legislators only six months of every two years during the biennial lawmaking session.

Members of both parties indicated they wanted fuller explanations from commission members on where and how money was being spent to renovate the Statehouse, including the lounge.

Today the Senate scheduled hearings on three bills, already passed in the House, to appropriate $30,150,000 to the Public Aid Commission to enable it to meet its obligations through June 30.

The bills, which are scheduled to clear the Senate this week and go to the governor for signature, provide $10,000,000 for general relief, $14,450,000 for aid to dependent children, and $5,700,000 for disability assistance.

The House Tuesday will hold hearings and move to final passage Senate bills appropriating $369,259 in new money for the Hodge-looted auditor's office and approving transfer of another $290,000 to help make up shortages in the office.

The House also will take up bills, which have cleared the Senate, for a $400,000 deficiency appropriation for Southern Illinois University, and for authority for the Chicago Sanitary District to issue six million dollars in bonds to assure completion of the Cal-Sag channel widening project.

Seek $1,775 Damage to Land By Oil Operation

Darwin Thiel and Anna Mae Thiel seek $1,775 damages from the Ohio Oil Co., charging the oil company damaged ten acres of their land to that extent in a Galatia township drilling operation.

The complaint, filed in circuit court by their attorney, Arlie O. Boswell, says the plaintiffs own surface rights in Section 11, Township 8S-5E, that the mineral rights belonged to other persons.

The Ohio Oil Co., which leased the oil rights, entered the premises Feb. 15, 1956, the complaint says, without consent of the plaintiffs and began its drilling operation.

In moving equipment and in the operations, the complaint charges, 100 yards of fencing were destroyed, the land was defaced with deep ditches and other indentures, two 15-foot deep pits covering about a quarter of an acre were filled with salt water and other impurities which spread to the land, top soil was mixed with sub-soil and about ten acres of land were rendered unproductive.

The complaint says that the land was well adapted for growing crops and raising livestock prior to Feb. 15.

Ernest Springs, 55, who formerly resided in this area, died at his home in Greenville, S. C., Sunday morning.

He was the brother of John Springs of Carrier Mills RFD 1, Mrs. Harry Tanner, Marion RFD 2, and Mrs. Harry Priest, Pittsburg RFD 1.

The body is being returned to Marion and will be received by the Mitchell funeral service. Arrangements are incomplete.

BISHOP, Va. (UP) — An explosion deep in one of the nation's largest soft coal mines today killed between 35 and 40 miners.

Searchers found the bodies of the miners some six hours after the blast at Pocahontas Fuel Company's Bishop mine on the Virginia-West Virginia border.

The company issued a statement saying there were "less than 40 men involved" in the disaster and that "of this number there are no survivors."

The company said the cause of the explosion was not known but earlier an official indicated that gas was believed to have touched off the blast.

The blast trapped three crews of about 12 men each some 2,000 feet from the mouth of the mine at 12:55 a. m. CST the company said. The crews were digging coal from the face of the No. 3 seam of the Pocahontas mine field in the heart of the soft coal belt.

The company statement said the blast occurred 2,200 feet from the bottom of a new air shaft. There were approximately 177 men inside at the time and most of them got out through another opening, the statement said.

Mine dispatcher Robert P. Meade said exploding gas apparently caused the mine disaster. Bad air and smoke hampered rescue workers as they tried to reach the trapped miners.

A. V. Sproules, vice president of Pocahontas, and West Virginia Mines Department inspector Julius Olzer said the section where the

King Saud Indicates Arab World Will Accept Middle East Doctrine

WASHINGTON (UP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia indicated today that the Arab world will accept President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine after he explains its full meaning to other leaders in the area.

He said he felt the plan to use U. S. arms, if necessary, to prevent Communist penetration of the Middle East, would be acceptable to other Arab leaders if "the points I raised here could be clarified to them as they have been to me."

The visiting monarch said he will try to clear up Arab misunderstanding and relay to other leaders the correct explanation he received in his conferences with Mr. Eisenhower.

King Saud made the statements in an interview with Marguerite Higgins of the New York Herald-Tribune. Jamal Bey Al-Hussaini, his royal counselor and interpreter, later confirmed the statements.

The King's remarks indicated that Mr. Eisenhower has scored an important gain for his policies.

Officials here have contended that once they persuade the King that the United States has no imperialist ambitions but is interested only in helping the Middle East

March of Dimes Workers Urged to Complete Campaign

All workers in the Saline county March of Dimes finance campaign are urged to complete their work and turn their money to the treasurer as soon as possible. R. C. Adams, chairman, said today.

The campaign extended through the month of January and to date a total of $4,500 has been turned in but many of the projects haven't been reported, Adams stated.

Saturday members of the American Legion and VFW posts of Harrisburg staged a "Pitch for Polio," second of the current campaign, and $372.88 was received.

Persons who haven't sent in their March of Dimes cards, mailed out early in the month, are urged to return them, mailing to Polio, P. O. Box 56, Harrisburg.

Two Burglaries Over Week End

Chief of Police Ross Lane today reported two burglaries over the week end. Last night Road Moore's grocery was entered but nothing was missing today. The Lincoln school building also was entered over the week-end and a check was being made today to see if anything was taken.

Mine Supports Town

At the time of the explosion, the statement said, the three crews were working at six different hole faces. A foreman and four other miners were equipped with apparatus for the detection of gas.

The U. S. Bureau of Mines in Washington flew two officials to the scene.

The town of Bishop is supported solely by the Pocahontas mine, which works around the clock to produce, wash and ship out 10,000 tons of coal a day.

The mine is the second largest in the Pocahontas coal fields and is one of the largest in the United States.

The mine office here is in Virginia but the entrance, about 100 yards away, is across the state line in West Virginia.

Meany Speaks Out

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, has always been admirably firm in combatting racketeers and other questionable elements in unions.

It was characteristic of him, therefore, to voice concern over the refusal of officers of the Teamsters' Union to give a Senate subcommittee full information regarding the unions' use of funds.

Nor did Meany rest with mere expressions of concern. He laid the matter before the federation's executive council, meeting in Miami, for appropriate action.

Today's unions, like our present corporations, are large establishments with broad obligations.

Business leaders are held accountable not only to their employees and stockholders but to the public at large, for many of the firms they lead are almost like governments within our great freely based governmental system. Not the least of their accountability must be for the money entrusted to them.

So it must be with the huge labor unions of 1957. These great organizations cannot be operated as private fiefdoms without regard to the rights and needs of the union rank and file, the businesses they are tied to, or the general public.

Meany understands this thoroughly, otherwise he would not have spoken up as he did.

Unions must be operated with the broad interest of all affected parties in constant mind. And union officials must willingly account for their handling of money and for all other aspects of their stewardship.

The Teamsters' officials who resisted Senate efforts to gain such an accounting were misguided.
No excuse can justify their reluctance. Indeed, anything but full disclosure of the union's financial and other operations can only arouse suspicion that the facts will not bear open examination.

thesia" is credited to Oliver Wen-

"Be Prepared; in This World, the Motto's Perfect, Son"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Mc-Carthy Boycotts Eisenhower
Luncheon; Dag Hammarskjold
Is Too Neutral; The Witch-
Hunter Who Probed N. Y.
Times Seeks Top Senate Post.

WASHINGTON. — Few people even inside the Senate saw what happened, but Sen. Joe McCarthy boycotted President Eisenhower when he came up for lunch with the Senate GOP Policy committee
this week.

All Republican senators were invited into the Appropriations committee room where the luncheon was held, to say hello to their leader. A Secret Service man had a list of all senators permitted to enter. On the list was the name of Joe McCarthy. But Joe did not come.

Carefully, he stayed on the Senate floor, then rather ostentatiously escorted two young girls from Wisconsin around Senate corridors, stopped in front of the room where the luncheon was being held, posed for photographers, and went on.

TOO-NEUTRAL, HAMMARSKJOLD

Diplomats who worry over the sometimes narrow pro-Nasser operations of UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold recall the remark made by that venerable crusader for peace, Trygve Lie, when he retired as secretary general of the United Nations.

The old Norwegian lion, who had taken firm sides against the Communists in the Korean war, shook his head as if preferring not to comment. Then he said:

"He is too Swedish and too neutral for me."

MRS. MORSE AND MRS. MCKAY
After ex-Secretary of Interior Doug McKay was defeated by Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore.) in a bitter Senate race, the McKays

sadly decided to give up their Washington apartment in the Greenbriar. About that time, a woman phoned the Greenbriar Apartments, asking if they had a vacancy.

"We will have a lovely apartment available next month," promised the Greenbriar manager. "Secretary and Mrs. Mc-Kay are now living there. But if you would like to look at the apartment, I'm sure they wouldn't mind."

"No, thank you," replied the woman. "You see, I am Mrs.
Morse."

WITCH-HUNTER RETURNS

An interesting and amazing development has happened inside the potent Senate Judiciary committee which indicates the power of McCarthyism even though its original author has been censured
by the Senate.

Julian Sourwine, McCarthy's friend and author of the witch-hunting probe of the New York Times, is being taken back as top counsel of the Judiciary committee.

Sourwine left the committee last year to run for the Senate in Nevada, where he was severely trounced in the Democratic primaries by Sen. Alan Bible. Ordinarily, senatorial courtesy either discourages or definitely forbids
a man who ran against a senator from receiving reward from the Senate, or, for that matter, from the executive branch of the government.

However, Sourwine has the backing of McCarthy's friend, Senator Eastland of Mississippi, chairman of the committee, and also Senator Jenner of Indiana,
another McCarthy friend.

Sourwine started the New York Times probe of his own, without any vote by the Internal Security Committee. Not even McCarthy

would have taken this initiative without consulting other committee members. The probe was held shortly before Sourwine ran for the Senate in Nevada, and some senators felt that the timing was deliberate in order to help Sourwine's Senate ambitions.

Roy Cohn, McCarthy's close friend, put up some of the money for the Nevada race. Now that the race fizzled, Sourwine is back at the Judiciary committee about to get the top staff job.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

When ex-GOP Chairman Len Hall was propositioned by the White House to become U. S. ambassador to Israel in order to help his race for governor of New York, Len wisecracked: "I have a hard time going through the Bronx." . . . RCA's General Sarnoff gives this pithy diagnosis of Moscow's ill: "The great strength of communism has been not in deeds but in slogans. The great disillusionment, begun with the Kremlin's confessions of the dead Stalin's heinous crimes, is being deepened by recent proofs that Stalin's successors are no less criminal." . . . Pierre Du Pont III, treasurer of one of the biggest companies in America, is proud of being an immigrant. His family arrived in the 1700's. He's now heading the American Museum of Immigration to establish a national shrine at the foot of the Statue of Liberty. . . Subordinates are urging the Joint Chiefs of Staff to speak out against defense cuts. If Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey can disagree with the President publicly, they argue, then the Joint Chiefs ought to be allowed to the same privilege.

BILLBOARD LOBBY
The Billboard Lobby is unlimbering its guns to fire at Sen. Dick Neuberger (D., Ore.) and his bill which would protect the scenic beauty of new federal highways.
Neuberger's bill would ban billboards for 500 feet on each side of new highways.

"The value of a billboard," says Neuberger, "comes not from the billboard but from the value of the highway. The American taxpayer is going to spend $39-000,000,000 on these highways, and I claim they have a right to look at a little bit of the scenery that's left in this country."

Neuberger introduced this amendment to the highway bill last year, but it was knocked out by Senator George of Georgia, for years the congressional spokesman of Coca-Cola. Today the billboard lobbyists are warming up again. Some time ago they wrote senators, claiming the billboards kept drivers from going to sleep.
To this, Senator Neuberger replies:

"The billboard lobby claims that if you look at what God put alongside the highways you will fall asleep. If they think they can improve on God with signs of Old Grand-Dad and Regal beer they have another think coming."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For the sons of this world are for their own generation wiser than the sons of light. —Luke 16:8.
Practical men usually amass a competence to see them through three score years and ten, but do we lay up treasures to last us in memory for endless ages?

Organization 'Sara' Formed by 'Ham' Operators

"Ham" radio operators have organized a new association which will be known as "Sara" Shawneetown Amateur Radio Association. At their first meeting held Friday night, Feb. 1, they accepted the offer of Radio Station WGGH, Marion, of the use of that station's old transmitting station near the Veteran's hospital as a meeting place.

Dan Meler, Anna, was elected president. Twenty-seven amateur operators attended the initial meeting. Many others are eligible to belong. Joe Tate and Ase Bacon, Harrisburg, were present.
Meetings will be held on the first Friday in each month. One of the plans of the new organization is to perfect a system of radio communications to be used in civilian defense, Mr. Tate said.

THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

It makes 'em Stare-anywhere!

You see it any place... and you want to look at it. There's a pride and a prance to it that gives you a lift, makes you feel alive and vital. But the real tingle is driving it!

There it is... as long and low and purposeful as a gleaming jet,
with its long rakish fenders streaming back and up like battle flags. This is the dynamic new look of 1957 motoring, and we can't help it if others aren't there yet. Give 'em time—we always have.

The important thing to know is that every flowing "go" line in this 1957 Chrysler has a purpose. That low-slung body and upwept tail were engineered for a new kind of road stability.
They are the architectural results of Chrysler's Torsion-Aire ride, the all-new suspension that gives you sports car cornering with the comfort of an ocean liner.

Front coil springs have been completely eliminated. There's up to 56% more glass area to enhance its roomy feel. The wide, low grille features hooded dual headlights. And if you want to find out what "go" really is, wait till you boss its up-to-325 horsepower engine and pushbutton TorqueFlite transmission. The real tingle is waiting for you. Come in and see us ... or just telephone. We'll gladly arrange a demonstration

Unlikely as it seems, more coal moved on Chesapeake Bay in 1955 than on the Kanawha River in the heart of West Virginia's coal fields. Chesapeake Bay barges carried more than 7,900,000 tons; on the Kanawha River 5,800,000 tons were moved.

Miss Emma Lou Abell Weds Dean E. Schrock At Chicago Christian Church

Announcement is being made of the wedding of Miss Emma Lou Abell, daughter of Mrs. Emma Abell of Harrisburg, and McElroy Abell of Vienna, and Dean E. The bride chose a dress of wedgewood blue brocade with long white lace mitts. She wore a shoulder length veil of net and carried a white Bible topped with red roses.

Presbyterian Fellowship Group Holds Fourth Potluck

The lower rooms of the First Presbyterian church was the scene for a bountiful dinner recently when approximately 100 persons were present for the fourth Presbyterian Fellowship meeting. Individual place mats and place cards were attractively arranged around the ten large tables.

Food and menu committee consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Favreau, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Melton.

After a brief meeting conducted by the president, John Stump, the program committee introduced John Foster and James Farley. These speakers told of the picturesque, interesting scenic spots of this area. Colored slides and photographs were shown of many such places within easy access and of various groups, both local and otherwise, taking tours of the trailways. The group greatly enjoyed examining the material shown following the speeches including an especially interesting photogravure section of a recent issue of the St. Louis Post Dispatch showing a local tour. It was enlightening to learn how many people from a great distance come to enjoy the natural beauty of local scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Thurman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wiley composed the committee responsible for the enjoyable program.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Bob Dorris, Arthur Anderson, Byford Wiley, Owen Hunsinger, Roderic Nash, Don Roberts, Jack Smith, Harold Hansen, Floyd Teply, Eugene Neihaus, Gordon McGehee, Jack Feddeler, Kenneth Wiley, John Utter, B. Booklet Tells How to Get and Hold State Jobs

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Ivan A.
(Jack) Palmer has published a pocket-sized booklet on how to get and hold jobs with the state of Illinois.

Palmer, who served in the Legislature from 1937-41, is the best advertisement for his own book which sells at $1 a copy. He is now an administrative assistant to State Supt. of Public Instruction
Vernon L. Nickell.

Palmer's 46-page book, entitled "Position Opportunities With the State of Illinois," lists every position from governor down to janitor, according to wage scale.

Palmer points out that the state is one of the biggest employers in Illinois, with about 50,000 people on the payroll at an average salary of $288 a month.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywoodites Are Talking About: Gogi Grant becoming Ann Blyth's ghost "voice" for all the singing in the Helen Morgan story, now titled "The Jazz Age." Ann looks, and can act, the part but her voice flunked the "low down blues" test. . . . Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy near the signing stage for a Hollywood telefilm series, "Favorite Son." They will face the cameras after pinch-hitting in a five-week chore for Arthur Godfrey. . . . Kirk Douglas paging Ingrid Bergman for a costarring role with him in "The Viking." . . . Bing Crosby's new leading lady in "Man On Fire" — Inger Stevens. She's a combination of Gergman and Grace Kelly.

RED SKELTON's real-life "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" role — laughing it up with a heavy heart while his 9-year-old son, Richard, faces death, a victim of leukemia. The boy may never live to see another Christmas. . . . Universal-International planning a series for the teen-ager musical, "Rock, Pretty Pretty." It's rocking box offices from coast to coast. . . . The "For Sale" sign on Bing Crosby's Thunderbird Country Club home at Palm Springs. Price: $90,000. "George White's Scandals of 1957," which debuted at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas, being geared for a summer opening on Broadway.

The special telephone switchboard installed to handle Elvis Presley's phone calls at Paramount while he stars in "Something for the Girls." Paramount also has something for his wild fans—extra guards on the studio gates.

The advertisement in a movie trade paper: "For Sale: '55 Jaguar. Owner no longer feels sporty."

JACK CARSON and estranged wife Lola Albright becoming a This-is-Hollywood-Mrs. Jones. Item. Yup, they've been having dinner dates. A reconciliation? "Who knows?" they chorus. Carroll (Baby Doll) Baker in the running for the title role in "Marjorie Morningstar." But four New York actresses just landed in town to test for the role.

Talk about Donald O'Connor starring in a remake of Buster Keaton's 1927 movie hit, "College." Donald just played Buster in a film biography of the famed celluloid comic.

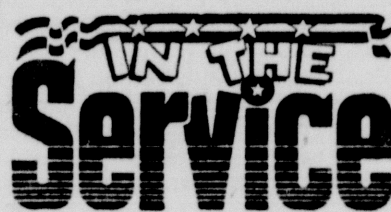

JAYNE MANSFIELD telling news reporters at a Hollywood night club opening: "It's been so lonesome. I haven't seen a photographer in 10 minutes."

Rose Marie's quip about television: "The new faces amaze me — Pola Negri, eight years old, and Mary Pickford, at nine."

The early life of Helen Keller, with Patti (The Bad Seed) McCormick starred, slated for TV's Playhouse 90. . . . The billing row between Liberace and Jayne Mansfield on a recent TV show. Jayne took top billing in the opening, Liberace in the close.

The big 20th Century-Fox studios planning seven new half-hour telefilm series. First to reach the cameras will be "How to Marry a Millionaire," based on the movie, followed by Mother Is a Freshman. . . . Joan Blondel slated to be announced for the TV version of "Baby Snooks." . . . Jockey Billy Pearson's confession about the $64,000 question show: "I really don't know if the quiz shows are honest. When they first interviewed me before the show they found out I knew nothing about Chinese art. So from that time on I was never asked any questions about Chinese art."

Pfc. John L. Owen Jr., whose parents live at 807 North Webster street, is taking part in the construction of a military airstrip at Pohakuloa on the island of Hawaii. GI Home Loans In '56 Top '55

CHICAGO — The Veterans Administration has announced that GI home loans to Illinois veterans reached their third highest total last year, despite a tight mortgage market.

Robert D. Beers, VA regional manager, said state veterans got 22,659 home loans to totaling $283,976,955, or about 8 per cent above the 1955 volume.

"A tightening in the mortgage fund supply was not yet being realized by the end of 1956 in Illinois," Beers said.

Clinton Jaycees Present Award to Beaten Minister

CLINTON, Tenn. — The Clinton Junior Chamber of Commerce has presented its distinguished service award for 1956 to a Baptist minister who was beaten by segregationists during integration troubles at Clinton High School last December.

The award, given to the Rev. Paul Turner, said his "courage, leadership, and love for his fellow men were an inspiring example to millions of people throughout the world."

Turner was beaten by a group of white segregationists after he escorted Negro children to the racially troubled school. The students had said they were afraid to go to classes alone and unprotected.

No Early Tax Cut: Humphrey

WASHINGTON — Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey slammed the door again today on an early tax reduction.

Although taxes now are "so high" that in his opinion they will hamper the nation's economic growth in the long run, Humphrey restated the administration's opposition to any tax cut now.

Humphrey testified before the Senate-House Economic Committee.

Israel Defies Appeal by UN

Refuses to Leave Gaza in Fear of Egyptian Attacks

JERUSALEM — Israel today firmly resisted a United Nations appeal for it to remove its troops from the Gaza strip and parts of the Sinai desert facing the Gulf of Aqaba.

Foreign Ministry spokesman Moshe Leshem said Israel would continue to defy the resolution until the United Nations gives Israel some guarantee that Egypt will not use the areas to attack Israel and Israeli shipping.

Cairo newspapers launched a campaign against the stationing of any UNEF forces along the Gulf of Aqaba, and said this would "overstep UNEF's mission as originally accepted by Egypt."

The leading Arabic newspaper Al Ahran said U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. "couldn't have meant what he said about the necessity of putting UNEF units at the Tiran straits. That would be asking for something impossible."

The U. N. General Assembly passed two resolutions Saturday night calling for an immediate Israeli withdrawal and recommending the use of the UNEF troops in the disputed areas to guard against future military action.

The second resolution was vaguely worded and left to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld the problem of making it work.

Israel's defiance of the resolution came as Britain began talks in Amman today with Jordan on the withdrawal of British forces.

Liz Taylor, Mike Todd on Honeymoon

ACAPULCO, Mexico — Elizabeth Taylor, 24, and Mike Todd, 34, honeymooned for the "last time" today at a seaside estate ringed by a protective guard of armed Mexican troops.

The actress and the producer planned to stay here about 15 days at the palatial villa of ex-President Miguel Aleman where they were wed Saturday night. It was the third marriage for each and both vowed it was the last.

Todd gave his bride a diamond-studded bracelet, ear ring and ring set valued at $80,000 for a wedding present. Asked what she gave him, Miss Taylor replied, "My eternal love."

Armed Holdup of Norris City Station

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to stimulate it to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Security Curtain Hides Identity Of Mystery Person Ill in Moscow

LONDON — A tight security curtain today hid the identity of a mystery patient ill in Moscow and added fuel to the fires of an international guessing game.

The guesses ranged all the way from some such top Soviet leader as Deputy Premier Lazar M. Kaganovich to a relatively unknown but important atomic scientist.

There was this much to go on: 1. Dr. Hans Joachim Shulten, a blood disease specialist in Cologne, Germany, suddenly was summoned to Moscow. He was not told his patient's identity.

2. The patient must be of importance to warrant the sudden summons.

The Supreme Soviet meets in Moscow Tuesday and the leaders will be scanned closely for important absences.

In New York, the tabloid Daily News added a cloak-and-dagger touch to the speculation. It quoted Washington "intelligence sources" to the effect that Kaganovich had been shot mysteriously in a Kremlin power struggle and is near death.

The News said the 64-year-old Kaganovich, a former right hand man of Premier Josef Stalin, wanted to remove Communist Party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

"Khrushchev and Bulganin, recognizing Kaganovich as the chief schemer in a plot to bring their ouster and a complete Kremlin reshuffle, reportedly ordered the

Hollywood Life For 16 Marine Boots

HOLLYWOOD — Sixteen Marine Corps "boots" never had it so good. They were chosen from Marines at the San Diego (Calif.) Marine recruit depot for parts in "The DI" (drill instructor), a film to be made here by Jack Webb.

Hollywood "boot" life will include three weeks at a Hollywood hotel plus all expenses — and with the official sanction of the Marine Corps.

deputy premier shot," the News said.

"Something went wrong. Kaganovich was only gravely wounded when struck down by a bullet Thursday night, and now he is apparently receiving every care.

A United Press Moscow dispatch made no mention of the Daily News report but said flatly that Kaganovich had completed a two-week tour of Siberia only Sunday and had returned to Moscow. The report would seem to eliminate him from the guessing game, since the Cologne blood specialist was summoned to Moscow Saturday.

But there were other names. They included Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov or former Premier Georgi Malenkov, both of whom were known to have been ill recently.

Shulten eliminated them with the statement that his patient was a man between 50 and 60 and said he was not a Soviet leader known to the West.

Carmi Boy, 16, Fatally Injured

Ronnie Ray Aud, 16, died Sunday at 12:40 a. m. at the Carmi Township hospital from injuries received in an auto accident Saturday night at 10:30.

He was killed in a head-on crash involving three cars on Illinois Route 1 a mile south of Carmi. Several persons were injured and taken to a hospital in Carmi, state police reported.

He was the son of Mrs. Violet Turner Aud of Brownsville and of the late Raymond Aud.

The body was taken from the Carmi funeral home to the residence to lie in state today.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at West Union church. Earl Hunt will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

CARBURETOR SAVES GAS BY "JET-ING"

Car owners who are wasting money and not getting proper gas mileage due to over-rich mixtures will be pleased to learn of a Wisconsin inventor who has developed a very clever unit that saves gasoline by "jet-ing and vacuuming." It is automatic and operates on the supercharge principle. Easily installed in a few minutes. Fits cars, trucks and tractors. The manufacturers, the Vacu-matic Carburetor Co., 7617-70 State St., Wauwatosa, Wis., are offering a Vacuumatic to anyone who will install it on his car and help introduce it to others. They will gladly send full free particulars if you write them or send your name and address on a post card today.

Eagles Defeat Galatia, 73-60

Eldorado defeated Galatia Saturday night 73-60 on the Eldorado floor, the victory giving the home club an even break in a weekend two-game schedule and a season's record of 7-10.

Galatia's record for the season is 9-9.

The winning Eagles took command of the game at the very start and held a 19-12 quarter lead, extended the advantage to 40-28 at the half and after three quarters were on top 61-40. Early in the fourth quarter Eldorado Coach Al Adams began to substitute freely and the game tightened somewhat.

Galatia had the better field goal shooting average, with 22 of 61 for .361 while Eldorado hit on 23 of 72 for .319. At the free throw line Eldorado scored 27 times and missed 13 and Galatia hit 16 of 27.

Donald Kingery, senior forward, paced the winners with 23 points. Cantrell was tops for Galatia with 15.

Eldorado also won the preliminary game, 69-38.

Galatia plays two games this week end, traveling to Rosiclare Friday night for a Greater Egyptian conference game and hosting Carrier Mills Saturday.

Eldorado has a pair of games listed, entertaining Carmi Friday and Benton Saturday.

Hawks Move Into First Place Tie

By United Press

The battling St. Louis Hawks, who were in the National Basketball Association's Western Division cellar a few weeks ago, moved into a first-place tie with the slumping Fort Wayne Pistons today.

The Hawks, paced by huge center Bob Pettit, who scored 31 points, bounced back after a sluggish first half Sunday to whip the Minneapolis Lakers, 102-85, while the Pistons faded in the last period in dropping a 104-95 decision to the Syracuse Nationals.

The action left St. Louis and Fort Wayne with identical 24-25 records.

Carrier Mills Wins Slow, 39-29, Tilt from Cave

Carrier Mills and Cave-in-Rock played a slow-down game on the latter's floor Saturday night, with Carrier Mills the winner 39-29.

In was a case of Carrier Mills being somewhat listless after a heart-breaking loss the night before to Attucks, and Cave being content to play control ball.

At the end of one quarter of play Carrier Mills held a 2-0 lead, an unusual score in this day and age. And at halftime C. M. led 10-4.

Jack Cowger, Carrier Mills' senior forward who has been hobbling on a bad ankle, injured the other ankle during the third quarter of play in a hard fall following an attempted rebound. The ankle is badly swollen, but he is in school today and probably will be ready for action by this weekend.

Both clubs were effective at the free throw line, the winning 'Cats hitting 19 of 24 and the Rockers connecting nine times and missing but three. The first 22 attempts were successful, Carrier Mills hitting fourteen in a row and Cave-in-Rock eight before there was a miss.

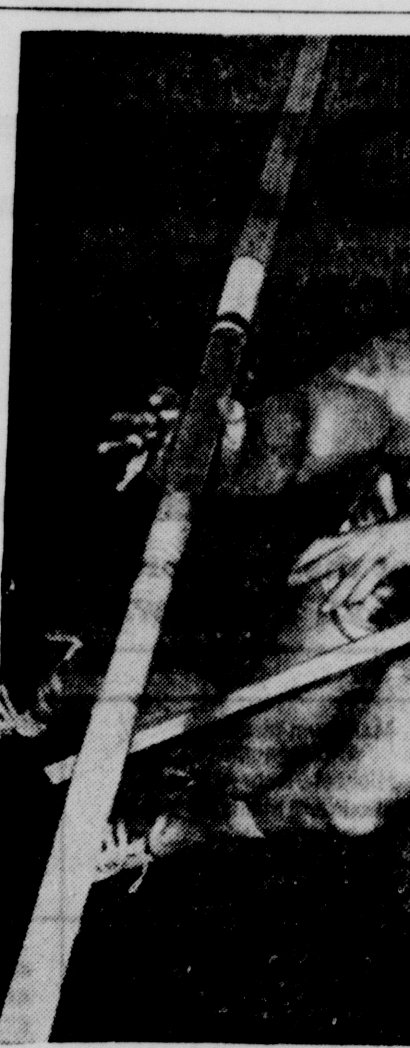

In the preliminary game Carrier Mills was the winner 93-60. For the season the C. M. varsity has a record of 18-1 and the Kit-tens have won 13 and lost 2.

Carrier Mills plays twice this week end, McLeansboro making a call Friday and the 'Cats go to Galatia Saturday. Cave-in-Rock plays at Brookport Friday.

Illinois, Loser to Purdue, 85-74, Faces Buckeyes Tonight; Final for Bon Salle

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State's basketball Buckeyes had a 12-year jinx working for them against Illinois tonight as they sought to retain their league-leading margin over onrushing Purdue.

The Buckeyes, sporting a 6-1 Big Ten record, swing into action for the first time since their Jan. 28 loss to Michigan State when they engage the early title favorite, Illinois.

The Illini, undoubtedly smarting from their 85-74 Saturday night loss to Purdue, are apt to be in a winning mood, particularly since it is the final appearance of their ace scoring machine, George Bon Salle.

Offsetting this, however, is a jinx favoring the Buckeyes that goes back a dozen years. It has been that long since they lost a basketball game on the Illini court at Champaign.

Purdue Could Move Ahead
The victory over the Illini moved the dark horse Purdue five to within a half-game of the pace-setting Buckeyes and left the Boilermakers with a slate of five conference wins in six tries. Their only setback was suffered at the hands of the Buckeyes in an early season encounter.

The Boilermakers tangle with Michigan tonight on the Wolverine floor. A Purdue victory coupled with an Ohio State loss would catapult the Boilermakers into the league lead.

In other games tonight Northwestern will seek its third win in nine Big Ten starts at Indiana, and Iowa takes on Washington of St. Louis in an extra-league affair.

The Boilermakers were the hottest prospect in the developing conference race. Operating without three players lost through scholarly deficiencies, Coach Ray Eddy's

Majors Approve Pension Plan; Praise Bob Feller

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Feller, who retired after a meteoric 21-year career, today left his fellow players "something to remember him by"—a pension plan equal to anything ever written in America.

Commissioner Ford Frick revealed the details of the new five-year plan, made possible by $16 million in revenue from All-Star Game and World Series radio and television rights, and then paid tribute to the former Cleveland Indian fireballer's all-important role in bringing it about.

"I don't want to take anything away from men like Robin Roberts and Marty Marion who worked on it," said Frick. "But—everything considered—it was Feller who played the tremendous role."

Other Liberal Benefits
The plan, approved Friday by the 16 major league clubowners, provides for increases in benefits of $17.50 per month for each of the first 10 years of major league service and an increase of $10 a month for each succeeding 10 years. Liberal insurance, disability and hospitalization benefits are also included in the plan, which goes into effect April 1.

Under the terms of the program, five-year major league veterans who retire at 50 years of age will receive $88 a month for the rest of their lives. Ten-year veterans will receive $175 a month and 20-year veterans $275 a month.

More for Waiting
Players who do not want their benefits at the age of 50 may leave the money in the fund and receive increased benefits in later years. For example, a 20-year veteran who delayed receipt of his benefits until 65, would receive $550 a month.

The players' contribution to the program will be $2 a day throughout the season. In the past, the players contributed from 27 cents to $2.50 per day depending upon their salaries.

The new plans includes all players who were covered by the original one initiated on April 1, 1947. It means that a player like Rollie Hemley, who caught 19 years in the majors including two games in 1947, will receive $275 beginning next June 24, when he celebrates his 50th birthday, instead of a mere $100 a month.

Joe McCarthy, Wahoo

Crawford Named to

Baseball Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe McCarthy, who never was good enough to play in the major leagues, entered baseball's Hall of Fame today along with Sam (Wahoo) Crawford, the man who walked in the shadow of the great Ty Cobb. McCarthy, 69-year-old ex-manager of the New York Yankees, and 76-year-old Crawford, former slugging outfielder for the Detroit Tigers, were named as the 82nd and 83rd members of the famed shrine at the bi-annual meeting of baseball's special committee on veterans.

To do the many tasks better than Aunt Cordy had done them became Cass's main object in life, and her only pleasure. The house must be even cleaner than it had used to be. The windows must sparkle, the curtains must be crisp, the bed linen glossy with cleanliness. The meals must be as hot and as tasty and as nicely served—but the menus could be planned with a little more attention to variety and eye appeal.

The invalid must be cared for meticulously and tirelessly; there Lenoire had presented a challenge to Cass. Even while she was acknowledging gratitude to Lenoire for her help with Aunt Cordy, Cass was devising ways to do more herself for the stricken woman.

But she couldn't tell Marcy... "She just lies there," said Marcy, "and takes all you do for her, and the only time I've ever known her to show anything like pleasure was the night the cook left the buckwheat batter in too warm a place and you had to go into the kitchen at 11 p. m. and scrub the floor."

"I had to rescue the batter, too," Cass pointed out.

"It was an awful mess, and so were you when you got done. But Aunt Cordy loved seeing you that way!"

The second time she knew she had pleased Aunt Cordy was on the night when Alex came home early from the hospital and asked why-in-heck Cass had refused the invitation to the Hartmann barbecue?

He found her in his mother's room, and he put his question to her right there. The Hartmann barbecue would be a good party, he pointed out. All the people they both liked would be there. "Pauline said if I could change your mind, we were to come on."

"I'm sorry, Alex," said Cass, "but I can't leave at meal time. You know that."

"I know you can if you want to," Cordy Ward lay on the bed, looking from one to the other, her blue eyes bright.

"Well, then, let's say I don't want to," said Cass flatly.

And Aunt Cordy smiled.

He thumped the back of one hand into the palm of the other, straightened his shoulders and followed Cass out of the room, catching up with her at the dining room door. "Look, Cass," he said firmly, "I want you to come across to the apartment, dress, and go to that party with me."

Her eyes flared wide and dark. "Yes," he said sternly, "I am making a point of it."

"Well—" she said uncertainly, "I'll need to speak to Will Ivory. You go ahead, Alex, and get started. I'll come over in about 15 minutes."

It was a very good party, a rowdy, noisy one. Everyone ate too much, half the guests drank too much.

On the drive home Alex turned to Cass and smiled. "Thanks for a nice evening, Mrs. Ward."

"I enjoyed it, too," she admitted.

"You know, Cass," he said slowly, "if we sold the Haven, we could have a home of our own. I could go to St. Louis, or some place—as we had planned—and I could do the psychiatry I want to do."

"Wouldn't it be better," she said, "if you'd try to like the work you're doing here? Heaven knows, you seem busy enough!"

"I don't think," said Alex stiffly, "that any compromise is better than the exact thing. And the work I am doing here is a compromise with the work I want to do."

"I think," said Cass, turning a little in the seat to make her statement more emphatic, "I think you could make your work here fully as good as the work you think you want to do."

Perhaps it was her emphasis which angered him; perhaps he was panicked at the thought of the wife he had lost, and the one he now seemed to have. "I know what sort of work I want to do!" he cried.

"Don't shout."

"And then there's you, Cass!" he cried. "You've tied yourself to that! You've no life of your own any more! You can't do one thing you want to do..."

"Oh, but you're wrong, Alex. I'm doing exactly what I want to do." He leaned toward her. "You want to run the Haven?"

"Of course. Why not?"

"It's my mother," Alex was saying tensely. "And I should be grateful for all you've done. But I'm not grateful, Cass! I am not! Especially not for the impassioned, efficient way in which you have tackled the job, and done it. I do not care at all to see my wife making a career of martyrdom."

She gasped, startled at his vehemence, and hurt. "I think," she said stiffly, "after all she did for you, that you'd be the first to understand any sacrifice I may make. That you'd be ready to make an unlimited sacrifice yourself for your mother."

Alex turned, and threw his arm along the back of the car seat behind Cass, but not touching her. "Well," he said reasonably, "I'll tell you how I feel about sacrifice,

Cass. And you'd better remember this. Because a man treats his wife just about the same as he treats his mother.

"I feel this way. I'll do anything—and would do anything—to save Aunt Cordy from danger or fear or shame. But a useless sacrifice—self-martyrdom, that doesn't accomplish anything—no, I'll not endorse, nor be sentimentalized into any such unproductive life."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

"What's the use?" is a question which springs from the lips of the discouraged, the disheartened or the disillusioned person. More people utter these words of despair than we realize.

Many try to do the right thing and are misunderstood. People try to explain circumstances only to be doubted. Some describe absolute facts only to be accused of falsehood. Others disparage by implication.

Is it any wonder that those who are honest, those who are decent,
